

BUCCANEER RANGE REGULATOR GAZETTE

October 1897

Headline: Watch Out For Circle Flies

High Noon Henry was in the middle of the 3 day drunk at the Bleeding Heart Saloon. He felt the need to relieve himself so he was staggering down the middle of Regulatorville Main Street looking for a suitable spot to do the deed. Sheriff Holliday was leaned back on his chair on the jailhouse porch reading the latest issue of Gunslinger Magazine.....As High Noon Henry staggered by, Sheriff Holliday peeked over the top of his magazine and wondered how to approach the situation.....His first thought was to just give Henry a good pistol whipping but remembering that Henry had just had a match win and also had a clean shoot at the same time the Sheriff decided the better part of valor may be to just give Henry a ticket for drunk and disorderly conduct.....The Sheriff got between Henry and the saloon as Henry was on his way back.....He produced his ticket book and informed Henry of the pending citation he was going to write.....Just as the Sheriff started to write two big ole flies started buzzing around the Sheriffs head....The Sheriff took a swat or two at them but the flies would not go away.....Henry said, "Hey Sheriff, them circle flies giving you a hard time??.....The Sheriff looked at Henry and said "I've not heard of circle flies before"....Henry replied, "Yea, you see a lot of them circling around a horses ass".....The Sheriff glared at Henry and asked, "You calling me a horses ass?????".....Henry said, "No, not me, but you sure are having a hard time fooling them flies"..... At that point the Sheriff went back to his first plan and gave Henry a good ole pistol whipping.....
